The “Devonshire” here relates to parishes bordering the Tamar which have swapped County over time. More typically you will just want Cornwall.

Select Cornwall

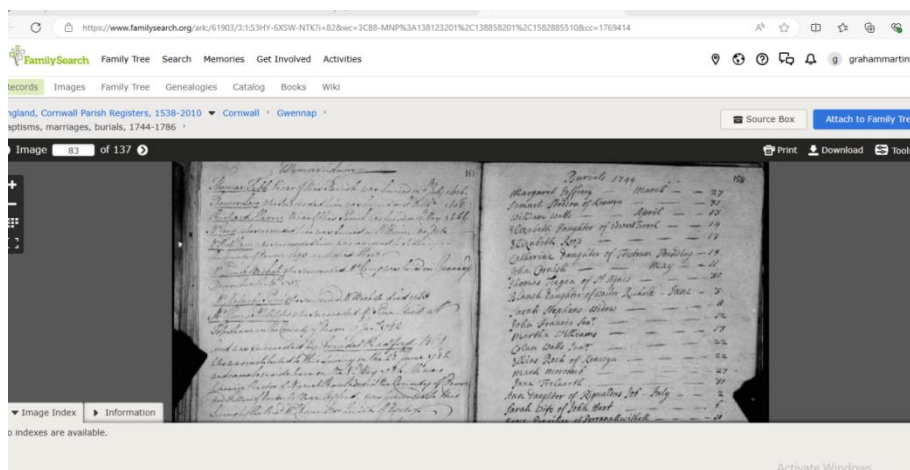

Scroll through the list of parishes to select the one you are interested in, eg Gwennap

Select the type of record and its year

NB when scrolling through the pages of an individual register the system freezes if you attempt to view more than 5 pages every ten seconds. Use the page counter to jump large number of pages at a time. So to go from page 5 of the 1744 baptismal record to look at the 1744 burial records delete the 5 in the page counter box and insert 83 and press enter

Depending on the version you actually use, tools for enlarging, toggling between single and all fiches, adjusting contrast & brightness will appear in boxes in the top left or top right of the display area. Moving to the next fiche forwards or backwards for single fiches is by the arrows either in the top left or at the respective sides of the display area.

Typically entries in the Registers are consecutive for the type of record (B, M or D) they are. However, it is not uncommon to find short blocks of years for each type of record intermingled. If you don't, immediately, find the year's entries you are looking for just keep scrolling, they might be somewhere else!

Parishes are set out in alphabetical order; the word “St” is ignored, thus St Just in Penwith is catalogued under J. The tools for moving between the fiches are the same as set out previously. The following is the list for Redruth Parish

Conveniently this inventory also notes the Probate Jurisdiction within which the Parish lies and some of the non-conformance chapels/circuits within its bounds.

I have not come across Bishops' Transcripts being available online. However if they are please let the CHFS Secretary know, so that this guide can be updated accordingly. Nonetheless Kresen Kernow does hold some Exeter BTs on microfiche; where relevant the Parish Inventory above will indicate this feature.

This collection of PRs on Family Search is not exhaustive. For example there are no records at all for Gwinear Parish. Apparently these were kept at the Parish level and therefore not filmed at the time that the other Parishes were (Oct 1988).. The actual whereabouts now is not known to the author. This may be the case for other Parishes. If you cant find what you are looking for here, then search online for Kresen Kernows Collections Catalogue, it may be there and accessible in person.
